

COMPANY PROFILE

Experience and capabilities

Camelspace is 100% New Zealand owned and operates nationwide. We carry-out all types of scaffold work and have successfully delivered some of the largest, most complex and highest profile scaffold projects in NZ in recent years.

Camelspace is known not only for commercial access scaffolds and propping but has an industry leading reputation for being the company best suited to the difficult and challenging requirements of infrastructure and public access projects.

Along with some of the most impressive technical 'horsepower' in the industry, Camelspace owns over 3,000t (~100,000m<sup>2</sup>) of Layher® scaffold and temporary roof systems; facilitating safer, faster-to-erect structures resulting in productivity gains and financial savings for both Camelspace and our clients.

Camelspace are able to deliver large complex engineered solutions by utilising both in-house professionals and established relationships with consultancies to design, manage, build and sign-off advanced structures for construction, infrastructure, event and public access applications.

As well as scaffolding, propping, temporary roofing, encapsulation and edge protection solutions, Camelspace own NZ's largest variety of temporary stair system products and are leading specialists in scaffold based temporary ramps and bridges for public access as well as temporary structural steelwork.

In addition to the traditional commercial, industrial and infrastructure scaffold markets, Camelspace have a significant share of NZ's event structure market. Supplying temporary grandstand seating, concert stages, towers, platforms, temporary roofs etc. to some of the country's largest events each year.

Structure and presence

Camelspace was established in Auckland in 2004 where its Head Office still resides along with a further branch office in Wellington. Head Office boasts both a full-time 3D modelling/CAD designer and H&S Manager servicing branch representatives. Branch based dedicated management teams along with sizable transport fleets underpin an ability to respond quickly and efficiently to requests of all sizes and programme demands.

Camelspace have the best safety record in the business and are active members of Site Safe and Scaffolding and Rigging New Zealand (SARNZ).
